Frontier Nursing University PROBLEM IDENTIFICATION SHEET

This sheet will help you with the basics of problem identification. The student and the preceptor should each fill one out, then meet to discuss. Sometimes simply identifying the problem, the student's level and your style will key you into effective strategies.

l No
If it is a

Hov	v long has this been a problem?
Prec	ceptor:		Student:
	Very recent Recently
	Almost from the beginning of our	contact
	From the beginning of our contac	t
Cur	rently what is the student's skill l	evel?
Prec	ceptor:	Student:
	Beginning Skills
	Intermediate Skills
	Advanced Skills
Currently what is the student's commitment level? "Confidence"
Prec	ceptor:	Student:
	High
	Variable
	Low
Wha	at sort of progress has the student	t been making	g until now?
Prec	ceptor:	Student:
	Very Rapid
	Moderate Progress
	Slow Progress
	No Progress
	Regressing
	Variable
The preceptor's current style is:
Prec	ceptor:	Student:
	Stage 1 Supervision/Directing
	Stage 2 Instruction/Coaching
	Stage 3 Encouragement/Support
	Stage 4 Entrustment/Delegation
The	problems until now have been:
Prec	ceptor:	Student:
	Frequent Occasional Almost none

As a preceptor, I have been able to adjust my precepting style in the past:
Prece	Successfully Somewhat Successfully Unsuccessfully	Student:
How are you communicating about this problem?
Prece	Very Well OK Deteriorating Not able to communicate	Student:
Date for meeting to discuss Problem ID Sheets:  Did you reach a mutually agreed upon statement of the problem. If so state here:
Stude	ent Signature:		Date:
Prece	eptor Signature:		Date:

Please site the documentation of this problem, and attach as appropriate.

Mail documentation along with both PROBLEM ID SHEETS to your faculty contact person.