I understand the following FNU policies regarding course withdrawal:

- 1) Students are allowed access to a specific course only twice; if a student fails the course in second attempt, s/he will be dismissed from Frontier.
- 2) Students are allowed a maximum of three course withdrawals. Withdrawal from a fourth course will result in review by the Administrative Team for possible dismissal.
- 3) Students are financially liable for all registered courses once the add/drop period expires. Withdrawing from a course will not result in a refund of tuition/fees. Students will be charged full tuition/fees for a course retake.
- 4) Students must make reasonable and timely advancement toward program completion. This is known as Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). Course withdrawal may adversely affect a student's SAP, which may impact financial aid.
- 5) This form is used to withdraw from an individual course(s). There is a separate process to withdraw from the university. I have read the section on "Withdrawal from a Course" in the Student Catalog.
